

YOUR ELECTED OFFICIALS

Reference Sheet

Rather than looking up information on your elected officials each time you would like to contact them, it can be helpful to put together a reference sheet of who your elected officials are, and how to contact them. The “Local” section has been left blank, as there are many different local officials (mayor, city council, town/village board, school board, etc.) you may want to include.

Consider filling out a copy of this sheet based on your organization’s service area, and a copy based on your own personal address (if you don’t reside in the same community). Find contact information for your federal, state, and county elected officials here:
